BIOMÉRIEUX

To Whom It May Concern:

Jason Covington is a full-time consultant here on the Product Labeling and Documentation technical writing team. We are responsible for the technical documentation and manuals for products and systems, including our infectious diseases diagnostic equipment and software, Vitek and Vitek 2.

I have been working with the organization for 17 years and joined the documentation team a year ago. Although I did not previously work with the documentation, I now work full-time sharing my product and company knowledge with the writers on staff, including Jason, and daily work with them on the documentation projects.

Jason is well qualified as a technical writer and has been working as a communications and writing consultant for eight years.

I would highly recommend Jason in all of his future endeavors.

Sincerely,

Jack Kesler
