Welcome Messages

Dear friends,

It is with great pleasure that I write to you, on behalf of the International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS), about the upcoming 20th World Congress which will be held from June 1 to 5, 2013 in Seoul, Korea.

There have been many recent exciting developments in the science of otorhinolaryngology and in patient care which we plan to examine and discuss at this crucial meeting. At our previous congresses, ENT professionals around the globe have enjoyed a stimulating scientific and social program. At this congress, we will take a critical look at new and existing clinical treatments.

The scientific program is designed to meet the aim of the 20th IFOS World Congress which is "Innovation and Integration in ORL-HNS"; it will consist of special and keynote lectures, round table and panel discussions, symposia, instructional courses and free paper sessions such as oral, e-poster and video presentations.

This 20th congress in the series should yet again prove to be an important milestone for clinical scientists and practicing health care workers from all disciplines of otorhinolaryngology. Together, we will further the management and treatment of patients and advance the field of otorhinolaryngology.

I really look forward to welcoming you to historic Seoul and to a very successful congress.

Paulo Pontes
President, IFOS

Greetings!

Back in 2009 in Sao Paulo, the International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS) General Assembly chose Seoul and the Korean Society of ORL-HNS to organize the World Congress in 2013. Their preparations have shown that this was an excellent decision.

The organizing committee, under the presidency of Chong Sun Kim, has already done a tremendous job preparing every detail of the biggest ORL event.

Over 300 sessions covering nearly every aspect of ORL-HNS have been planned, with participation from over 1,000 international faculty members.

The World Congress is also a great chance to meet colleagues from every corner of the world, to share clinical experiences and developments and to enjoy the unique culture, cuisine and atmosphere of Korea.

It is a pleasure for me as General Secretary of IFOS to invite all of you to come to Seoul and participate in the world's largest ORL event to increase its scientific and social value.

I hope to see you all in Seoul.

Milan Profant
General Secretary, IFOS

About IFOS

www.ifosworld.org

The International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS) is a non-political organization representing over 50,000 Otolaryngologists belonging to about 120 member nations.

IFOS was founded in 1965 and it has evolved to deal on a global basis with the problems of people with ORL disease by means of an active secretariat and committee structure; lobbying the World Health Organization; leading the global program for hearing loss prevention; providing interchange between centers, especially in Europe through the Twin Cities Project; publishing a newsletter and maintaining the interactive website. It has a continuing medical educational role and has developed a model undergraduate curricula; it has now initiated CME conferences between World Congresses and recently started the Worldwide Action "Hearing for All".

IFOS World Congress

This prestigious scientific event is only held once every four years, under the auspices of the International Federation of Otorhinolaryngological Societies (IFOS), and represents an unparalleled opportunity for ORL physicians and related personnel from every corner of the globe to gather in one place to learn, share and interact with one another.

The year 2013 marks a historic return of the Congress to Asia, currently one of the world's most rapidly developing regions.

Changdeokgung (Palace) is one of the "Five Grand Palaces" built by the kings of the Joseon Dynasty. Changdeokgung, which literally means "Palace of Prospering Virtue", was the most favored palace of many princes of the Joseon Dynasty and retained many elements dating from the Three Kingdoms of Korea period that were not incorporated in the more contemporary Gyeongbokgung. Jongmyo Shrine was built by Lee Seong Gye, the first king and founding father of the Joseon Dynasty. It was a primary place of worship for kings throughout the Joseon Dynasty and is registered as a UNESCO World Cultural Heritage site for its well-preserved ancient customs such as memorial services and traditional music.

HT-3 Art & Culture Tour [ Namsangol Hanok Village, Leeum Samsung Museum of Art ]

Leeum, Samsung Museum of Art, exhibits traditional and modern works of art by Korean and international artists. The museum itself is just as fascinating as the works of art on display, since its three buildings were designed by the internationally renowned architects, Mario Botta, Jean Nouvel and Rem Koolhaas.

Participants will learn the etiquette of drinking tea through a traditional tea ceremony wearing Hanbok (Traditional Korean Costume). Folk paintings are comprised of "functional" pictures widely used by commoners during the late Joseon Dynasty to decorate their homes or to express their wishes for a long, happy life.

Bukchon Hanok Village, surrounded by Gyeongbokgung, Changdeokgung and Jongmyo Shrine, is home to hundreds of traditional houses called "Hanok" that date back to the Joseon Dynasty.

About Seoul

Visitors to Seoul are often struck by the city's incredibly diverse atmosphere and multi-faceted profile. Evidence of Korea's fabled economic development and technological initiative abounds, yet Seoul's illustrious history, dating back to the founding of the Joseon Dynasty in 1392, has hardly been ignored. Grand imperial palaces and serene temples have been meticulously preserved amongst the towering skyscrapers and busy urban sprawl that have come to be associated with modern Seoul. Recently, the city has been making a solid push to re-establish its natural beauty and environmentally friendly side. In addition to the lush forests and mountains which encircle Seoul, successful projects to landscape and restore the Cheongyecheon (Stream) and Hangang (River) banks have provided a wonderful refuge from the pressures of urban life.

The Cochlea & MED-EL Electrodes

The cochlea is situated in the inner ear and is approximately 7mm in diameter or the size of a pea. In the cochlea are three fluid-filled canals called the scala tympani, scala media and scala vestibuli. These canals are responsible for transmitting sound vibrations to the neural structures. It is in one of these canals that an electrode array of a cochlear implant is inserted. However, it has been established that the scala tympani is the ideal location for an electrode array <sup>1</sup>. Due to their design, MED-EL electrodes are perfectly suited for insertion into the scala tympani. Once in the scala tympani, it is also important that the electrode array does not perforate the wall of a neighbouring canal thereby destroying membranes and neural structures.

MED-EL electrodes have been specifically engineered to protect the neural structures of the cochlea. Due to their ultra-soft and flexible design the electrodes allow for gentle insertion causing minimal friction and optimal placement in the scala tympani.
