

Your choice for electronics end-of-life asset management

Since 2008, we've led regional efforts to safely and efficiently dispose of electronics items. That means we use best practices from the EPA and meet all E-waste industry disposal standards. Albuquerque Recycling has securely disposed of more than 4.5 million pounds of obsolete electronic equipment.

"... Everyone was very pleased and appreciated the opportunity to recycle their electronics with such ease and convenience. We look forward to working with you again in the future."

How you can recycle

No one today questions the need for secure electronics recycling – the question is who to turn to. E-waste is expected to rise by 500 percent in the next decade. Less than 15% of e-waste is currently being recycled.

We make it easy for you to bring in your “retired” electronics for recycling. You simply drive up, and we will carefully unload your vehicle and have you on your way in a matter of minutes.

Ready to E-Recycle? Staying local makes a difference.

Protecting our precious environment is everyone's responsibility. Recycling your e-waste in New Mexico creates jobs, supports the local economy and benefits our environment.

Please be a good steward of resources and do your part to recycle your electronics items. You can trust Albuquerque Recycling to be your recycling partner.

Your assurance of our recycling commitment

If you leave your unwanted electronics in storage or in the hands of someone who does not practice secure data destruction, you are no longer in control of your information. This leads to problems, such as exposing sensitive personal data or your company's proprietary information to hackers and identity thieves. Don't take that risk. Use the data destruction services of Albuquerque Recycling to eliminate this possibility.

Professional data destruction

Our professional data destruction services meet or exceed all the standards identified within the articles of the National Institute for Standards and Technology's (NIST) Special Publication NIST 800-88. This is your guarantee that your organization's recorded information is thoroughly destroyed and the media itself is unreadable by any means.
